- 5 次の英文の下線部の説明として適当でないものを選びなさい。

What is the most important thing in your house? Is it your computer, the TV or the DVD player? There is something more important than these because we cannot live without it. We use it every day. It is clean water.

We need water for drinking, cooking and washing. We use it in our homes, in schools and in offices.

How can we save and recycle more water? Some houses have “gray water” systems. Gray water is the water that we have used in our showers and baths. Gray water systems recycle the water and use it for flushing the toilet and washing the car. They can save about 33% of all the water we use every day.

(注) flush(ing) the toilet = トイレに水を流す

- ア シャワーや風呂で使った水
- イ トイレや洗車に使うことができる水
- ウ 私たちが毎日使う約67%の水
- エ きれいな水を節約するために使う水

健 (Ken) とジェニー (Jenny) の対話文を読んで、1 から 5 までの問いに答えなさい。

Ken : Look, Jenny! It's snowing!!

Jenny : Wow! This is the first time I have seen snow.

Ken : Really? Do you mean (①) ?

Jenny : That's right. We don't have snow in our country.

Ken : Look at this. We can see small pieces of snow. They are called "snow crystals."
Do you want to see the pictures of them in the library? They are really beautiful.

Jenny : (I) Let's go!
(At the school library)

Ken : Look at these two pictures. They show how one snow crystal changes its shape.
'Picture 1' was taken when it got to the ground, and 'Picture 2' was taken five minutes later.

Jenny : They have the same center, but the six needles sticking out from the center are not seen in 'Picture 2'.

Ken : (II) Those parts of the snow crystal evaporate soon.

Jenny : I see. Oh, there are other pictures of snow crystals in this book. Are there many kinds of snow crystals?

Ken : Yes, all snow crystals are different.

Jenny : Really? Why?

Ken : Because the shapes of snow crystals depend on the temperature and the water in the air, and they change all the time. So when we see the shape of a snow crystal, we can understand the condition of the air in the sky. One famous scientist says, "Snow is (②) sent from the sky."

Jenny : (III) Snow tells us a lot of things about the sky. I want to see more snow and to learn more about snow. It is fun to watch things in nature.

(注) crystal(s) = 結晶 needles = 針状の結晶体 stick out = つき出す
evaporate = 蒸発する temperature = 温度

次の英文を読んで、1 から 5 までの問いに答えなさい。

Have you ever thought about walking? I think many of you walk to school. But how do you go when you go to see your friends? I think many of you ride a bicycle.

Today we don't have to walk as much as people in the old days, because we can go to many places by car, by bus or by train. When we finish high school or college and begin to work, we don't have much time to play sports. But some exercise is necessary to keep our good health. How can we stay healthy then? We can say that ① walking is the easiest exercise to do, because we don't need anything when we walk, and we can walk at any place, at any time and at any pace. When we are (I), we can walk fast. When we are (II), we usually walk slowly. Walking is good exercise almost all of us can do.

There is another good thing about walking. If we use cars, buses or trains, they run very fast, and it is not easy for us to enjoy the world along the way. If we walk, we can see flowers, trees and the sky. We can hear songs of birds, and sometimes we can find something new around us.

Walking is also good for (②). When we are walking, we can say hello to someone we meet. If we meet the same people many times, we stop to talk with them and we can become friends.

Walking is a good way to keep our health in body and mind. It keeps us (III) and makes us happy. These days we see many people playing a game with walking. Some old people enjoy the game. Walking is very good for the young and the old to keep their health. So let's walk every day.

(注) pace = 速さ
